WHICH PARTY GETS THE PARK?

Which party is to have preference rights in Aala Park for the closing rally of the campaign on the eve of the election remains undecided.

Mayor Fern called for a report on the subject at the meeting of the Board of Supervisors this afternoon, but McClellan adroitly changed the live subject by making a report on the burial of the indigent dead.

It appears that the park question was one of the "private" matters that occupied a great deal of the time of the caucus last night, but after much warm talk between the lone Democrat and the overwhelming majority of the G. O. P. the result was a draw. Cyrus Green came before the board at today's meeting and discharged a vial of what he evidently considered righteous indignation upon the head of Building and Plumbing Inspector Miehlstein, for withholding from him a permit for an apartment house near the Rapid Transit barn. He declared that the building plans and specifications complied with the regulations of the Board of Health. "I don't see why this man should shout down on me in that way," Mr. Green exclaimed in conclusion. "It is outrageous. It is contrary to the constitution, but I don't want to go to law about it."

Mr. Miehlstein being present was asked by Mr. McClellan to state his side of the case. "I asked for a plan of the lot," said the inspector, "to show the position of the building on the lot, but the plan has not been forthcoming. There has been opposition on the ground that it is a tenement house."

When the complainant, who is hard of hearing, had the inspector's statement explained to him he readily promised to furnish the required plan of the lot.

Mr. Low brought up the matter of a contract awarded to the Schuman Carriage Co., to furnish six wagons to the county, in which the contractor is between the horns of a dilemma. Schuman furnished a certified check for $110 with his bid. Now he is five days behind time in delivering the wagons, which are on the wharf. He has not signed the contract. The county needs the wagons.

Deputy Attorney Stillverton, being appealed to, rendered an oral opinion forthwith, to the effect that if Schuman did not sign the contract his check became forfeited to the county, and if he did sign the contract he became liable to a penalty of $20 a day for all the time after contract date which elapsed before delivery of the wagons.

The matter was referred to the engineer and the attorney to try and settle it satisfactorily to the county.

Dr. James T. Wayson, city and county physician, wrote the board asking it to cancel the license of Sam Hop Lee's pot shop and factory at 939 N. King street, near Alapai lane. He quoted from a report of Inspector Isaac, showing that the premises were in filthy condition, with broken wooden floor and rubbish in the yard breeding flies and causing a bad odor. The responsible party was ordered to remove the causes of complaint and to put the premises in a thoroughly sanitary condition, but he absolutely refused to do so. Dr. Wayson had made a personal visit, and found that not only was the report correct, but that it would be impossible to make the establishment sanitary. Besides it was too near a tenement house. Therefore a decision was made that the license be canceled. The communicator was referred to the health committee.

Mr. Low orally advised against granting the request of the janitor of Kalulani school for an increase of salary, and a motion was carried that the principal of the school be informed that the salary, now $30 a month, could not be increased.

Ed Towse appeared on behalf of the Waiata, Kaimuki and Palolo improvement club to ask for the use of Lihoukalani school assembly hall for the club meeting on Thursday evening, also that the electrician be directed to connect the lights in the building with the Hawaiian Electric Co.'s current. He further asked the board to install a telephone in the building. The requests for room and light were granted, and that for a telephone referred to the ways and means committee.

Mr. Low reported that Bergstrom Music Co. was still awaiting word about the band instruments it had ordered under its contract.
